THE FINDINGS OF THE COMMISSION

Regarding Railroad Wrecks in Capital City

In Wreck of Southern's Excursion Train The Responsibility Is Placed on Both Roads—In Wreck on Norfolk & Southern Blame Is on Dead Engineer—Two Blind Tigers Caught—Fourth District Congressional Convention.

Raleigh, Aug. 30.—The North Carolina Corporation Commission promulgated today findings in the two Raleigh collisions that took place recently in connection with the Raleigh railroad yards involving the Seaboard Air Line, the Southern and the Norfolk and Southern.

In the case of the Southern Railway excursion train being run into by a Seaboard Air Line northbound passenger train as the excursion train was standing under the sheds of the union station the commission holds that the blame applies to both railroad companies because they failed to provide proper rules for the control of trains entering the union station now while the general repairs and remodeling are in progress. Also that the companies are failing to exercise proper precautions against accident in that they maintain a yard switchman for the day but do not provide one for night duty. The commission finds too that the train crew of the passenger train was blamable for not observing more caution in the absence of proper rules for the special conditions. As to the Norfolk and Southern collision in which the yard engine crashed into an incoming passenger train the commission holds that the accident was due to Engineer Smith, of the yard engine, taking chances and running out on the main line without orders, expecting to get to his turntable siding before the passenger train showed up. Smith was killed, as was Fireman Hodge, of the passenger train.

Two Wake Forest "blind tigers" were before United States Commissioner Jno. Nichols today and required to go to jail in default of $200 bond each for their appearance at the next term of the Federal court here. They were Zol Knight and Tom Denton, both colored. The crusade against "tigers" at Wake Forest is especially sharp on account of the interests of the college there and the place is said to be kept pretty clear of them.

Tuesday, September 20 is the day announced for the Fourth District Congressional Convention in Raleigh for the nomination of a candidate for Congress to oppose Congressman Pou. Postmaster J. C. Stancil, of Smithfield, is chairman of the executive committee by whom the call for the district convention is made.

Governor Kitchin has made requisition on the governor of New York for Loyd Giles, wanted in Martin county for burglary in the second degree. Giles is under arrest in Saratoga, N. Y.

Major B. F. Dixon, State auditor, has accepted the invitation of Gen. Julian S. Carr to deliver the response to the addresses of welcome on the occasion of the annual reunion of the North Carolina Division United Confederate Veterans at Norfolk September 6. Gen. Carr is commander of the North Carolina division and is directing the preparations for the reunion.

BOONE FAMILY REUNION

Eighty Three Were Present At Home Celebration Yesterday.

Yesterday at the home of Mrs. Elvira Boone ten miles East of Greensboro the annual reunion of the Boone family and birthday celebration of Mrs. Boone was held and it was a most enjoyable affair.

There were present eighty three children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. All of the fifteen children were present except one son in Indiana while among those present was another son who with his family had come from Indiana. A sumptuous dinner was served.

This reunion and birthday celebration is held every year and it is getting to be a bigger and more impressive event all the while. Mrs. Boone, the central figure, is always the recipient of earnest and hearty congratulations and loving remembrances from her descendants.

Allen Adams will leave tomorrow to enter Bingham School at Asheville.

THE JOINT CANVASS

Chairman Sherrill's Invitation and Chairman Worth's Reply.

The following correspondence passed between Democratic County Chairman E. G. Sherrill and Republican County Chairman H. B. Worth regarding a joint canvass between the county candidates of the two parties and is self-explanatory:

Greensboro, N. C., July 25, 1910.

Mr. H. B. Worth, Chairman, Greensboro, N. C.

Dear Sir: For decades it was the custom of those who desired the suffrages of the voters of "Old Guilford" to meet at convenient points in the county and discuss with all the candidates offering themselves for office the issues of the day.

This custom, I think a good one and one observed by all parties without interruption for scores of years, but for the last several campaigns the representatives of your party, for some reason, have seen fit not to observe this time honored custom.

My purpose in writing to you is to extend through you to the candidates of your party an invitation to meet the candidates of the Democratic party in a joint campaign to discuss the issues which are raised between the two parties.

I will be glad to meet with you at some convenient date, and arrange dates for the joint campaign.

Hoping to have an early and favorable reply, I am.

Very respectfully,
E. G. SHERRILL,
Chairman.

Greensboro, N. C., Aug. 16, 1910.

Mr. H. B. Worth, Chairman, Greensboro, N. C.

Dear Sir: Please see my letter of July 25 regarding joint canvass of the county by the candidates of Democratic and Republican parties.

I would thank you to let me have your decision in the matter as early as possible.

Yours truly,
E. G. SHERRILL,
Chairman.

Greensboro, N. C., U. S. A., Aug. 17, '10.

Mr. E. G. Sherrill, County Chairman, Greensboro, N. C.

Dear Sir: Your letter relative to a joint campaign received. I will place the matter before the candidates and the executive committee at their next meeting.

As far as I am concerned I am decidedly opposed to a joint campaign.

Yours very truly,
H. B. WORTH,
Chairman Republican County Executive Committee.

Greensboro, N. C. Aug. 27, 1910.

Mr. E. G. Sherrill, Chairman, Greensboro, N. C.

Dear Sir: Your invitation for a joint campaign was declined by the candidates at a meeting held today.

Yours truly,
H. B. WORTH,
Chairman.

COMMITTEE HERE TODAY.

To Inspect Local Site Offered For Proposed Masonic Home.

The committee of Masons appointed to visit the several cities offering sites for the proposed Masonic Home for Aged and Indigent Masons and their Wives, will be in Greensboro today to inspect the site offered by the local Masons. The site selected by the local committee is the one tendered by Mr. J. Van Lindley and is located just beyond Lindley Park. Quite a number of sites were tendered the committee, but after a careful investigation this was thought the more desirable.

In addition to a site each city bidding for the home is offering a cash donation and the Greensboro Masons are working to secure a donation of sufficient size to insure the location of the home in Greensboro.

Lawn Party At McLeansville.

The young ladies of Bethel Presbyterian church will give a lawn party on the Jefferson Academy lawn at McLeansville this evening from 5:30 to 10:30 o'clock. The event was to have been held on last Friday, but was postponed on account of inclement weather. The public is extended a most cordial invitation to come and partake of the delicious cream and cake that will be served by the young ladies of the church.

Ten Cars Ditched.

Southern Railway freight train No. 101 ditched ten cars at the 150 mile post east of Raleigh yesterday morning. No one was hurt but all passengers and mail had to be transferred around the wreck. A broken truck is supposed to have caused the trouble.

RALLY DAY FOR TEACHERS.

County Superintendent Foust States That Interesting Program Is Being Arranged.

That the Rally Day, the closing feature of the Guilford Teachers' Institute, on Friday will be a notable occasion among the educational element of the county is the confident assertion of County Superintendent Thomas R. Foust, who has in charge the program for the day. While he has not secured all the speakers for the occasion, the complete program will be announced Thursday or Friday morning. Supt. Foust left yesterday for Chapel Hill to attend the annual meeting of the State Association of County Superintendents, but will return Thursday to complete the minor details in the program for Friday. While he would not so state it is probable that one or more of the speakers at the superintendents meeting will be secured to make an address here Friday.

The exercises will begin Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock in the court house and continue for several hours. It is not yet known whether a recess will be taken for dinner, followed by an afternoon session. A large number of citizens from all parts of the county will be in attendance, letters having been sent to all the committeemen in the county, asking them to come and urge their neighbors to come.

In connection with the Rally day exercises a special meeting of the Womans' Betterment Association will be held for the purpose of reorganizing and securing additional members. The following in this connection is sent out by the county secretary, Miss Cary Anthony:

"In connection with the program of the educational meeting to be held in the court house on Friday, Sept. 2, at 10:30 a. m. I wish to urge all who are interested in the work of the Womans' Betterment Association to attend, as the annual election of officers will take place at this time."

SEVENTY FOUR YEARS OLD.

Friends of Mr. H. H. Willis Give Him a Pleasant Surprise on Birthday.

At the home of Mrs. Charlotte Henley, at Guilford College, about thirty-five of his friends gave Mr. H. H. Willis, formerly of this county, but now of Beaufort, a rousing reception on the occasion of his seventy-fourth birthday. Eight of those who planned the surprise were nearly the same age as the guest of honor, while the ages of the others ranged down to one year. After the guests had assembled Rev. Albert Peele invoked the Divine blessing.

After all had done thorough justice to the many good things to eat prepared by Mrs. Henley a photograph of the group seated was taken, this being followed by other snapshots for souvenirs. Before the guests departed Prof. F. S. Blair, at the request of Mr. Willis, thanked those assembled for the pleasure afforded Mr. Willis by arranging so pleasant an occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis lived at Guilford College for some ten years, their only son, Robert, being educated from that institution. After this they removed to their old home in Beaufort, but once a year come back for a visit to their former home to meet acquaintances and friends. It was the occasion of the annaul visit that prompted the friends of Mr. Willis to prepare such a pleasant surprise.

Mr. Willis' son is now a prominent lawyer, being connected with the Land Office Department of the Government, with headquarters in Arkansas.

HEADQUARTERS FOR COUNTY DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE.

The Guilford County Democratic executive committee will meet Saturday in the office of County Chairman Sherrill, at which time county headquarters will be located and plans for an aggressive campaign discussed and formulated. A schedule of dates for the speakings will be decided on also. Every effort will be made this fall to roll up the largest majority in the history of the county.

Sergeant Jones Out.

Police Sergeant C. A. Jones was able to be on duty again last night after being kept in his room for two nights on account of injuries received in a fall on Saturday night. The officer's wounds about the left eye are improving and unless complications arise he will be all right in a few days.

DOUBLE-HEADER THIS AFTERNOON

Greenville Boys Here For Last Time.

Weather Permitting Will Play Three Games on Local Diamond—Champs Go To Winston Friday and Saturday—Records of the Twirlers Used by Greensboro This Year—How the Clubs Stand.

The Greenville club will be here today, and weather permitting a double-header will be pulled off at the park. Today and tomorrow winds up the Carolina Association for the season on the local grounds, the team leaving here Friday for two games at Winston. The Greenville pennant winners will probably use McFarlin in the first game this afternoon and Redfern in the second. Manager Hicks will use Wallace in the first and either Houser or Walters in the second game.

The Greensboro club has been going great in the last 19 games played, having won 12 out of the 19 games, a percentage of .632. The team has just gotten into shape within the last few weeks, a lot of causes that were unknown to the public having been removed and the club shaken into winning form. There is very small chance of the team getting out of the cellar position but there will be no let-up in the playing, every game will be played to win as if the pennant depended upon the result. The game this afternoon will be called at 2:30 and today will be next to the last chance to see Tommy Stouch's Speed Boys that didn't have that much predicted "slump."

Pitcher's Records.

Below is shown the records of the several pitchers that have been used on the Greensboro club this year, with their winning percentages. There have been 10 twirlers used in 107 games, one game being tied, 44 won and 62 lost. Ridgeway has the best percentage but he was used in only 4 games. Walters has pitched 31 games and does not quite reach the .500 mark, but he would have more than equalled his last season's record had there been the same amount of hitting behind him and the same quality of base-running. Eldridge has been used in 26 games but he has been another hard-luck pitcher and since his hospital experience has not show up like he did at the first of the season, until Monday's game. Doak was used in one, seven inning game in Charlotte, and would have won the game had the Champs hit behind him, his work was above the average and it was not his fault he lost. Doak has played every position on the Greensboro club except first base and on the last day of the season at Winston, he will hold down that position. The records:

Pitchers.	Games.	Won.	Lost.	Pc.
Ridgeway	4	3	1	.750
Houser	4	2	2	.500
Smith	4	2	2	.500

THE FRIENDS REVIVAL

Charles E. Hiatt, An Able Minister, Is Preaching Strong and Eloquent Sermons.

The meetings at the Friends church on Asheboro street under the leadership of Chas. E. Hiatt are the talk of the hour among the Friends of Greensboro for they realize that not in recent years has there been such a preacher of the Quaker faith in their midst and in fact very few if any superior ones have come this way at all. He is not only a man of strong personality and broad-mindedness but favored with a gift of speech which many lawyers would be proud of. With all the qualities of a well rounded out man, logical and sane yet he is brim full of earnestness for the great cause he represents. The weather has been anything but favorable yet a cheerfulness pervades his makeup and his sermons, whether there be full audiences or small ones to hear him, are strong and able ones. These sermons are mainly from the New Testament, the texts closely followed, full of reasonableness and he never leaves the subjects without adapting them to this day and time. Those who would like to know what a modern Quaker is like and what Quakerism really stands for would do well to hear him, and everyone who goes will go away a better man or woman for having been in touch for a brief hour with such a man.

At the meeting last night Rev. Mr. Hiatt preached from the text "Is Thy Heart Right," dwelling upon the thought that "out of it are the issues of life." The sermon was delivered in a manner that was attractive and forceful because of its straightforward simpilicity, the message being vital and practical and adapted to present day realities and it met with a gratifying response.

The public is cordially welcome to all services. 6:30 a. m. prayer services. Regular services at 3 and 8 p. m. The Asheboro Street car leaving the court house square 10 minutes before the hour places you in ample time for the beginning of the services but those who cannot come then are quite welcome—only come, that is the main point.

DR. COOK IS COMING BACK, SAYS OSBON.

Explorer's Friend to Publish Book He Declares Will Prove Discovery.

New York, Aug. 30.—In the office of a magazine publishing house at No. 47 West Thirty-fourth street, Capt. B. S. Osbon, who believes that Dr. Frederick A. Cook found the North Pole, is preparing an article which, he says, will expose Cook's rival and will make it possible for the explorer to return to New York with a clear record. Capt. Osbon announces that $20,000 could not buy the records which he declares will prove Cook's claim to the Pole.

While the final proofs of the "Expose of the Cook-Peary Controversy" were being read yesterday by one of the members of the publishing house, Capt. Osbon said that the explorer would be in New York in October. The publisher of the magazine said that Cook had already returned to the United States and that he was in New York not many weeks ago. Capt. Osbon, however, said Cook was in Europe, in a sanatorium.

"We will vindicate the explorer," said Capt. Osbon. "We do not claim that he placed a tube on exactly the top of the earth, but he did put it within a few yards of the top. I have affidavits to back my statements."

BACK ON FULL TIME.

Railroad Shops At Spencer Resume Old Schedule of Hours Tomorrow.

Salisbury, Aug. 30.—Good news comes for the Spencer shops. On September 1, the men go back on full time, nine hours per day and six days in the week. This statement was given out to the employes Saturday afternoon. For some time the large force at the shops have been working an eight hour per day shift and only five days in the week. This materially cut down the salaries of the men, and a number had asked for their time and gone elsewhere.

Notwithstanding these facts, the pay roll at the shops for last month was said to be one of the largest in the history of the Southern at Spencer.

The cause for the reduction in the working hours at the shops for the past six weeks, it is stated, was a retrenchment to meet the expenses of the big new blacksmith shop now in the course of construction. This building is a large affair and when completed will add greatly to the material importance of the shops.

The employes and their friends, who are many, trust there may not soon be another reduction in the working hours at the shops.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE FARMERS

State Convention Being Held in Raleigh.

Will Continue Through Thursday—Large Attendance Considering Weather—Commissioner Graham Welcomes Farmers—Several Addresses—Major Dixon to Address Veterans at Norfolk—Assessments Mailed.

Raleigh, Aug. 30.—All the incoming trains today brought large crowds for the State Farmers' Convention in session at the A. & M. College Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week. The attendance is much better than it was feared it would be, the rainy weather considered. The visiting farmers were welcomed by Commissioner of Agriculture W. A. Graham and President D. H. Hill, of the college. The remainder of the morning session was devoted to an address by A. L. French, of Rockingham, on "The Twentieth Century Farmer" and a talk on conserving the home fruit products by Assistant Horticulturalist S. B. Shaw, dealing especially with the advantages of canning fruits and vegetables for home supplies and the market. The use of lime on the farm as a fertilizer was treated this afternoon by Director C. B. Williams, of thte experiment station and the general use of fertilizers for profit came in for illuminating treatment by State Chemist B. W. Kilgore. The rain interfered with a feature of the program that will be carried out later. This was a demonstration of seed corn selection by corn culture experts the college cornfield to be used for the purpose.

Tonight President Thomas W. Blount of the convention presented his address dealing with the progress of improvement in methods of farming and there was a talk on the possibilities of fruit growing in this state by W. N. Hutt, state horticulturalist.

The corporation commission is today sending out the last batch of corporation assessments to the various counties. These assessments cover public service and industrial corporations, banks, etc.

Supt. P. H. Fleming, of Alamance county, writes that Ossipee and Altamahaw districts have voted a special tax for school purposes.

Governor Kitchin has appointed the following delegates to attend the annual meeting of the American Prison Association, to be held in Washington, D. C., September 29, to October 2:

J. J. Laughinghouse, T. P. Sale, Miss Daisy Denson, Raleigh; Dr. A. R. Zollicoffer, Weldon; W. F. Beasley, Plymouth; Dr. C. S. McLaughlin, Charlotte; Dr. W. D. McMillan, Wilmington; Dr. I. F. Rhen, New Bern; Dr. H. B. Maxwell, Whiteville; D. L. Poole, Raeford; A. C. Kelly, Carthage; W. R. Medford, Waynesville; J. F. Anderson, Statesville.

The Raleigh public schools will begin work this year on September 12. Prof. Harper will begin his office hours on next Thursday, September 1, and at that time all children who are to enter school for the first time or who have lost or misplaced their admission cards, may obtain these from the superintendent.

The prospects are bright for the most prosperous and promising year in the history of the schools.

Important Meeting Woman's Club.

Old and new members of the Greensboro Woman's Club are asked to be on hand at the Carnegie library next Saturday morning, September 3, promptly at 10:30 o'clock, as there will be much important business at this meeting. Members of the executive committee are requested to meet at 10 o'clock, there being several matters to be disposed of before the regular meeting. It is hoped that the club year will open with a full attendance and that all will make it a point to be on time.

Negro Boys To County Home.

Two dimunitive negro boys were brought down from High Point last night to be placed in the county home. The boys are not large enough to earn a living and their mother was sent to the home some weeks ago. The father of the boys is a worthless character. It is possible that the boys can be placed in homes where they can earn a living before long.

EDISON DEMONSTRATES REAL TALKING PICTURES.

Phonograph and Photograph Records Are Taken at the Same Time, and Synchronism of Joint Exhibit is Called Flawless.

New York World.

"I take very great pleasure, gentlemen, in asking you to watch positively the last appearance of the stage door Johnny. He simply can't fall in love, you know, with a girl one one-hundred-thousandth of an inch thick.'

With these remarks Thomas A. Edison last night began the first demonstration that has been given to any one but his own experts of his kinetophone, otherwise his talking pictures. A dozen newspaper men composed the audience that saw, and heard, the performance at the West Orange laboratories.

The picture that was thrown on the screen explained itself, literally. The figure of a man stepped forward, bowed and then began to talk—the lips moving in perfect, unmistakable unison with the words that couldn't have come from them, and yet couldn't have come from any place else, it seemed.

The man dropped a croquet ball, its impact sounded instantly from the floor. He pounded the table with a little hammer, and there wasn't the fraction of a second between the sight and sound of the blow. He dropped a plate, and as the pieces flew the crack resounded. Finally an automobile horn was sounded, and the demonstration was at an end.

The phonograph from which the sound of the voice and that of the "business" came was behind the screen. The machine from which the pictures were projected was at the other end of the room, yet the synchronism was flawless. Wires attached to the projecting mechanism controlled the two, and their unity was as perfect as that with which the record of the one and the film of the other had been made.

"I'm going to put Metropolitan grand opera into the hamlets of Illinois in a couple of years," Mr. Edison said afterward. "I'm going to take John Drew into parts of Iowa he never heard of. Finally I'm going to take Col. Roosevelt to the cabins of the prairies with his campaign speeches. We've got it now."

Two years have been spent in perfecting these talking pictures. The old devices of having actors talk behind the screens or of taking phonograph records after the pictures have been made have been done away with entirely. The records for eye and ear are made at the same time.

The great obstacle that Mr. Edison had to overcome was in getting a phonograph tha tcould "hear" far enough. At the beginning of the experiments the actor had to talk directly into the horn, which made the right kind of pictures impossible to get. Bit by bit, however, a machine was perfected which could "hear" so well that the actor could move at his pleasure within a radius of twenty feet. That is the machine that is being used now.

A complete drama has already been "made" in these pictures, but only for experimental purposes. It will not be shown; nothing will be shown until the talking pictures can carry a Broadway production out with them.

"This isn't for nickelodeons," Mr. Edison explained. "This is a big, a serious thing, and I'm going to put it out until I can put it out the way I want to. It's important enough, I think, to deserve to be put out in just that w:

Last night's demonstration lacked verisimilitude in but one instance. The sound of the breaking plate was somewhat "wooden," but every other sound was as true to life as could be. It was uncannily so, as a matter of act.

CLEANLY WOMAN.

Erroneously Thinks by Scouring Her Scalp That She Cures Dandruff.

Cleanly woman has an erroneous idea that by scouring the scalp, which removes the dandruff scale, she is curing the dandruff. She may wash her scalp every day, and yet have dandruff her life long, accompanied by falling hair, too. The only way in the world to cure dandruff is to kill the dandruff germ, and there is no hair preparation that will do that but Newbro's Herpicide. Herpicide by killing the dandruff germ, leaves the hair free to grow as healthy Nature intended. Destroy the cause you remove the effect. Kill the dandruff germ with Herpicide. AMERICAN GIRLS SMOKE? LIBEL! SAYS LADY COOK.

Hotelkeepers Abroad All Complain They Won't Drink Wine either She Declares.

New York World.

Lady Cook, who arrived on the Red Star liner Finland yesterday, sunburned and happy after a three-months' automobile trip in Europe, declared that she was never so proud of her American citizenship as she was on this particular trip abroad.

"People who say American girls go abroad to have a good time b ydrinking wine and smoking cigarettes and following other European customs extensively libel our girls," she said.

"There were fifty girls, which represented several small parties, who went over on my steamer to do Europe. In al lthe large cities of the seven countries I visited I met one or more of these parties at my hotel, as well as other American girls touring the Continent. The hotelkeepers all complained that American girls will not drink wine.

"It would do you good to see the thousands of independent girls from this country touring Europe, and then to know the great admiration with which Europe regards them. American girls have revolutionized Europe. Streets of the large Continental cities which were not regarded as safe for women to walk on after dark have now been rendered as safe as our own Broadway. The American girl has done this.

"I have read a lot of this agitation of cigarette smoking by women in this country and I don't believe the habit is cause for alarm. A few actresses and society women may smoke, but you won't find a self-respecting woman earning her living in this country indulging in the practice abroad. On the way across there were more than fifty young women—professional and business women—and only one of them took a cocktail. The other girls felt sorry for her.

"I tell you,' said Lady Cook, her eyes flashing with animation, "you ought to see the progress of the woman's movement all over the Continent. I do not mean the suffragette movement. All through Europe, particularly in Italy, you ought to see how the women are waking up to a new sense of independence, and how they are breaking away from the old customs."

Lady Cook said she intended to hold some suffragette meetings in this country and would probably deliever a lecture in Carnegie Hall in September.

A REWARD

By AINSWORTH RHODES

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

It was at the height of the season at the seashore. Aunt Charlotte, my sister Ruth and I were enjoying the sea air, and I especially was enjoying the sea water. My aunt had charge of us girls and considered herself responsible for us. She used to sit on the beach watching us.

I was wading one day in water up to my waist. I wore a little gold cross about my neck and had lost it. While looking for it—I could have seen it on the bottom—I went down into deep water.

I had been swimming a good deal and was tired. They say that swimming is the hardest exercise one can take. At any rate, in trying to swim back to shallow water I found that I didn't move at all. I got frightened, and this made matters worse. The tide was settling down to the south and was moving me with it—not far, but proximity makes little difference when one is powerless. I called to my aunt, but she did not hear me or was not aware of my condition, for she made no move to help or call on any one to help me.

What an awful thing it is to be in danger of drowning and see some one looking at you, thinking that you are enjoying yourself!

But there was one of more experience in such matters who did see me. Near by was a pier extending out into the ocean, and on that pier was a man. He was standing over deep water some twenty feet above the surface. He was in shirt waist costume. I saw him jump feet foremost and swim for me. I went down before he reached me, but only for a moment. I felt his hand under my arm. We rose to the surface, and a few strokes carried us to shallow water.

One would suppose that my first feelings would be gratitude to the man who had helped me. Singularly enough, what I thought about was my lost cross, a little gold trinket not worth $5. As soon as I got my breath I said:

"Oh, my cross! I fear I shall never see it again."

"Your cross?"

"Yes. I dropped it near here. I was looking for it when I stepped beyond my depth."

He cast his eye about him and, suddenly thrusting his hand down for an object glistening in the sunlight, picked up my cross and handed it to me.

It was impossible for me, dressed as the man was, to tell to what class he belonged. He might be a boatman or a fisherman or follow any calling pertaining to the water. He certainly swam like a duck. I hesitated a moment about offering him money for having helped me out of deep water, but finally as we walked up on to the beach I said, "If you will call at the Arlington hotel I shall have something for you."

"At what hour?" he asked.

"Well, say directly after luncheon."

He took off his hat to me and walked away, doubtless to get on dry clothes.

After luncheon I went to my room for a rest, which I greatly needed. I was falling into a doze when a waiter rapped at the door and said that a man was below who said I had asked him to call. I went to my trunk, where I kept my money, took out a ten dollar bill and told the waiter to give it to the man below. The waiter went downstairs, but soon returned with the bill.

"He says it isn't enough, miss."

I was rather taken aback; but, going again to my trunk, I got out another ten dollar bill and sent it with the first. But the waiter came back, as before, with the message; "Not enough." I kept sending additional bills until I had sent $50, but they all came back with the same message. At last I told the waiter to ask the man what would satisfy him. The reply came back:

"The little gold cross."

My surprise at this was greater than before. The man had declined $50 and asked for a gold cross which, as I have said, was not worth $5. I had no especial attachment to the trinket, so I handed it to the waiter and told him to give it to the man below.

I may have been stupid about it, but I couldn't understand the matter at all. Why a man who would take a reward for saving a life should decline a substantial one for a girl's ornament I couldn't imagine. But I was very tired and went to sleep thinking about it.

Well, I didn't see the man any more on the beach, nor anywhere else for that matter. One evening we went over to the Bellevue for the dance there. One of the girls said that a yachting party of young men were to be there, and we all got our prettiest costumes. When we reached the Bellevue the hop was in full swing, but the yachtsmen had not appeared. Presently they came in.

"Well, I declare," I exclaimed, turning red as a beet on seeing one of them there, "if that isn't the man who took my cross as a reward for saving me."

"That," said a lady standing near, "is the yacht's owner; he's a triple millionaire."

"He saw me and came right up to me. I tried to slip away, for my cheeks were flaming, but he was too spry for me. Holding out my cross, he said:

"I won't keep it any longer as a reward, but I would be glad to have it for a token of our first meeting."

FREE TO YOU—MY SISTER

Free to You and Every Sister Suffering from Woman's Ailments

I am a woman.
I know woman's sufferings.
I have found the cure.

I will mail, free of any charge, my home treatment with full instructions to any sufferer from woman's ailments. I want to tell all women about this cure—you, my reader, for yourself, your daughter, your mother, or your sister. I want to tell you how to cure yourselves at home without the help of a doctor. Men cannot understand women's sufferings. What we women know from experience, we know better than any doctor. I know that my home treatment is safe and sure cure for Leucorrhoea or Whitish discharges, Ulceration, Displacement or Falling of the Womb, Profuse, Scanty or Painful Periods, Uterine or Ovarian Tumors, or Growths; also pains in head, back and bowels, bearing down feelings, nervousness, creeping feeling up the spine, melancholy, desire to cry, hot flashes, weariness, kidney, and bladder troubles where caused by weaknesses peculiar to our sex.

I want to send you a complete ten day's treatment entirely free to prove to you that you can cure yourself at home, easily, quickly and surely. Remember, that, it will cost you nothing to give the treatment a complete trial: and if you wish to continue, it will cost you only about 12 cents a week or less than two cents a day. It will not interfere with your work or occupation. Just send me your name and address, tell me how you suffer if you wish, and I will send you the treatment for your case, entirely free, in plain wrapper, by return mail. I will also send you free of cost, my book—"WOMAN'S OWN MEDICAL ADVISER" with explanatory illustrations showing why women suffer, and how they can easily cure themselves at home. Every woman should have it, and learn to think for herself. Then when the doctor says—"You must have an operation," you can decide for yourself. Thousands of women have cured themselves with my home remedy. It cures all old or young. To Mothers of Daughters, I will explain a simple home treatment which speedily and effectually cures Leucorrhoea, Green Sickness and Painful or Irregular Menstruation in young Ladies, Plumpness and health always results from its use.

Wherever you live, I can refer you to ladies of your own locality who know and will gladly tell any sufferer that this Home Treatment really cures all women's diseases, and makes women well, strong, plump and robust. Just send me your address, and the free ten day's treatment is yours, also the book. Write to-day, as you may not see this offer again. Address

Seventy-seven new would-be lawyers! Well, competition is good. Maybe, with more lawyers, there will also come lower fees.

Members of a West Virginia family claim that one Joseph Barnes invented the steamboat, not Fulton. They should have spoken sooner. Fulton has the honor. It is quite likely that he won it. Whether he did it or not, in history as well as in practice possession is nine points of the law.

The East keeps right on growing, although there is quite a prevalent opinion that the West has a corner on rapid growth. Schenectady, N. Y., according to the present calculations of the Census Bureau, outgrew any other city in the last decade, its percentage of growth being 129.9. There seems to be no such thing as "the effete East" in the United States.

Commercial associations in nearly every State has petitioned the Inter-State Commerce Commission to investigate rates charged by express companies. Criticism of the express companies for overcharges is almost universal. When there is so much smoke there must be some fire. The Interstate Commerce Commission should investigate the rates and when it does it will probably find that they are fixed to meet a schedule of fabulous profits.

Maj. Stedman will open the Congressional campaign at Spray next Monday. Gov. Kitchin and Solicitor Porter Graves will also speak at Spray on that day. It will be a big day for the Democracy of the district and more especially for the Democracy of Rockingham county. That county, being the home county of the Republican candidate, gave a small Republican majority in the Congressional election two years ago, but Maj. Stedman will undoubtedly carry it this year. In the gubernatorial campaign two years ago it cast 2,039 votes for Kitchin against 1,883 for Cox.

The Emperor has renegged! Having said the other day that the divine right of kings was still a thing existent, he says now that he was misunderstood and thus explains himself:

When I represented myself, like my sainted grandfather, as being under the highest commission of our Lord and God, I assumed that every honest Christian, whoever he might be, did the same. Whoever works in this spirit knows well that the cross imposes obligations.

Senator Bailey is one of those Democrats who are not afraid for his party to win the Congressional elections this year. There are some who fear that for the Democrats to control Congress while the Presidency is still Republican would queer Democratic prospects for 1912. The Senator well says that "those doubting Democrats who see a party disaster in our success pay a poor compliment to Democratic wisdom and Democratic patriotism." If the next House is Democratic it can be depended on to do its duty in enacting legislation that is truly Democratic and that is satisfactory to the majority of the voters in this country. Let the Democrats have a tryout!

The late Professor James, of Harvard University, who died last Saturday, had been for many years a student of psychic phenomena. He was a man of high scientific attainments, profoundly interested, as all thinking men are, in the problem of future existence. He was erudite, alert, a philosophical investigator of the profoundest of all mysteries. Before his death he confided to certain members of the Society for Psychical Research messages which he promised to send to them from the world of spirits if he found communication possible—Baltimore Sun.

A very great man usually has some peculiarity, some eccentricity or, to be more exact, some screw loose in his mental makeup. The man of ordinary common sense knows that when he dies he can't send a message back to this world and knowing it never thinks of promising to do so if he can. But much learning makes some people mad and we find Prof. James, perhaps the greatest philosopher of his time, lacking in one particular the strong common sense which marks the plain man of average intelligence. The future world must always remain more or less of an uncertainty to beings on this earthly planet.

REJOICING OF THE DOGS

Barked and Leaped and Warmly Welcomed Mr. Gaynor Home.

New York Sun.

The Mayor's children, Gertrude, Norman, Marion and Ruth, had started on foot to the station when they heard the whistle of the special and they were som edistance from the house when the limousine carrying their father passed them at a swift pace. Back they turned and raced for their home. They came upon their father sitting in a familiar attitude there behind the dahlias that fringe the edge of the porch and they fell upon him with laughter that was near to tears. The father gathered the whole brood into his arms and held them very close for a minute, saying not a word.

Then the dogs, Dubbsey, the nervous little Irish terrier, had heard the crunch of the auto wheels when his master came up to the steps and he had come snooping around from the well. He caught one glimpse of the master sitting there and instantly he was on his back at the Mayor's feet, wriggling and whimpering, fawning with tongue and paws and saying unutterable things of doggy love with his eyes. Then there were Big Ben, the red Irish setter, and Yama, the children's particular pet; they came tearing across the fields and hurled themselves again and again against their master's legs until Mrs. Gaynor had to scold them out of too violent welcoming.

During all the welcome the master of Deepwells sat with serious eyes bent down on the heads of his children whispering:

"There, there; yes, yes, I'm here."

When Dr. Parrish came up the Mayor addressed him heartily.

"Doctor," said he "you're going to let met sit out here on the piazza a while. It looks so good and homey from out here."

Some men are so methodical that they even expect their opportunities to travel on schedule time.

THE LYCEUM

More Than Ten Thousand Towns and Cities In the United States Ran Courses Last Year.

Mr. S. H. Bryan, of Atlanta, who is in Greensboro assisting local parties in launching the lyceum, and who spends a great deal of time in Greensboro when in this section, speaks most interestingly and enthusiastically of the lyceum movement in America. He gives the information that more than ten thousand towns and cities in the United States ran lyceum courses last year, not more than one thousand of this number being in the South. Both the lyceum and the chautauqua are most popular in the middle West. In that section of the country fifty per cent of the attractions appearing during the season are lectures, and the houses are usually crowded. "The insurgent sentiment was born in the middle West," says Mr. Bryan, "and the lyceum and chautauqua platforms are the only absolutely independent platforms in the country."

Hundreds of professional men and women are giving their lives to this inspirational and educational movement, which is so rapidly becoming a potent factor in modern civilization. Practically every college in the land runs a lyceum, thus emphasizing the value of this class of entertainment to the community.

Of the attractions which are booked for Greensboro, he says that they are among the best of their kind, each one being a standard lyceum attraction. "Roney's Boys" have been before the public twenty three years, Round's Orchestra fifteen years, Chicago Glee Club twelve years, Ralph Bingham thirty years, and not one of the number less than four years.

CHAIRMAN MOREHEAD GETTING IN READINESS

To Wage Active Campaign All Over State—Headquarters Opened.

State Chairman Morehead is moving into his headquarters and by tomorrow everything will be in fine shape. Yesterday a number of hands were busy carrying in different articles of furniture, literature, etc. The State Chairman and Secretary Grissom were on hand to direct the placing of the furniture and literature and to chat with an occasional visitor. Mr. Grissom stated stated that the proprietors of the job shops in the city were all anxious to get a share of the work of printing the vast quantities of literature that will be sent out all over the state.

When the reporter dropped in to inquire if there was "anything new" he was met with the jocular rejoinder "nothing but the furniture," Mr. Morehead indicating with a wave of his hand the new desks, chairs and other articles for the convenience of those who call on the chairman as well as for the work of the employes of the office. He then stated that there would hardly be anything of news value before the active campaign, which would begin next week.

A good sized stenographic and office force will be on hand after the campaign opens and volumes of literature will be dispatched to points all over the State. The campaign will be conducted in a business like way and the literature placed where it will be supposed to do the greatest amount of good for the Reupublican party in the State. Everything will be under the supervision of Chairman Morehead or Mr. Grissom.

The State executive committee will meet here Monday for the purpose of mapping out the campaign and arranging a number of the more important details.

"THE FILTHIEST SPOT IN GREENSBORO BELONGS TO GUILFORD COUNTY."

The county hitching lot, which is within half a block of the city hall and 400 feet from the court house, public library and West Market Street Methodist church is the filthiest spot in Greensboro.

It contains about five bushels of rotting melon rinds and quantities of trash as well as loads of fly-breeding horse manure and smells like a sink hole. This is the usual condition but formerly ugly tumbledown billboards concealed the filth which of course simply concealed it from view and nothing more.

This hitching lot is positively a disgrace to Guilford county and to Greensboro. It should be condemned and shut up by the city authorities and I sincerely hope it will be.

R. C. HOOD.

MR. BLAIR INVITED TO ENTER JOINT CANVASS.

With Maj. Stedman, Democratic Nominee For Congress From Fifth District.

Mr. A. Wayland Cooke, chairman of the Democratic executive committee of the Fifth Congressional District, has mailed the following letter to Mr. David H. Blair, Republican nominee for Congress from the Fifth district:

"D. H. Blair, Esq., Winston-Salem, N. C.

"Dear Sir: The time is rapidly approaching when the people of this district should have an opportunity to hear the political issues of the day fully discussed. Major Chas. M. Stedman, the Democratic nominee for Congress, will enter regularly upon his campaign about the 15th of September. You are invited to meet him in joint debate, if such is your desire, or you are willing so to do. I shall be glad to meet your manager at an early a date as possible that we may agree upon a schedule of dates and places for the joint discussion.

"I should have sent this letter directly to your manager, but I do not know who he is, hence I have forwarded it to you. An early reply is respectfully requested.

"Yours very truly,
"A WAYLAND COOKE,
"Chairman Democratic Congressional Executive Committee of Fifth District."

Mr. Cooke, who is also Maj. Stedman's campaign manager, stated yesterday afternoon that he had not begun arranging the campaign tour for Major Stedman and would not until he heard from Mr. Blair as to whether he would meet his opponent in joint debate. This will be done as soon as Mr. Blair's reply is received, provided he decides to decline the invitation. In case he accepts then Mr. Cooke will meet with his manager and arrange dates at different places in the district where joint debates will be held.

Mr. Blair arrived in the city yesterday and will in the next few days open headquarters in connection with those of State Chairman Morehead in the Benbow building.

CAUGHT OLD OFFENDER.

Deputy Collector Starbuck and Deputy Marshal Baley Return From Raid.

Deputy Collector O. A. Starbuck and Deputy Marshal J. M. Baley returned last night from a trip into Rockingham county and while away they were quite successful. Yesterday morning near Ayersville they destroyed a good sized blockade brandy distillery, but no one was around at the time. However, a goodly quantity of material was ready for work and this was destroyed.

On Monday night they accomplished their chief aim, which was nothing more than the arrest of John Craddock, a notorious blockader who has been dodging the revenue officers for the past five years. He was nabbed just as he was preparing to get into bed, having divested himself of his outer clothing just before the officers gained admittance to his home. He was taken before a magistrate and bond in the sum of $300 was furnished for his appearance at the December term of United States court. The federal officers regard this capture as of more than passing importance because of the many trips that have been made in efforts to bring the offender to justice.

Colors of the Stars.

Although there is no relation apparent betwen the two phenomena, yet it is interesting to recall the fact that among the stars certain colors appear to characterize different stages of change, or evolution. Red stars, according to the testimony of the spectroscope, differ widely in their constitution from white or yellow ones, and it has been thought that varying colors may give a clew to progressive changes in the heavenly bodies. Sirius, for instance, is said to have changed from red to white, and some have suspected that Arcturus is fading from red toward yellow.

A Fairly Good Appetite.

Kaffirs, North American Indians and the fat boy in "Pickwick" may well be quoted as fearful examples of voracity, but even their grastronomic feats are exceeded by the full grown Eskimo, who will daily eat twenty pounds of flesh and oil if he has the chance, while on the authority of Admiral Saritcheff a Yakut of Siberia has been known to consume in twenty-four hours "the hind quarter of a large ox, twenty pounds of fat and a quantity of melted butter for his drink."

To Be Avoided.

"There's Wilson! Let us turn back. I've no desire to meet that fellow again! Last week I asked him to lend me five pounds."

"Well, he certainly might have done so; he has plenty of money."

"Yes, I know—and he did lend me the fiver!"—London Mail.

A Strategist.

"That fellow is a greater strategist than Napoleon ever was."

"As to how?"

"He got a two dollar raise of salary a year ago and hasn't told his wife about it yet."—Pittsburg Post.

The man who looks well in a bathing suit would look twice as well in anything else.

Always Answered.

Children often are highly logical though not quite in the adult manner. They attain conclusions by those processes of "pure reason" which, being quite unbiased by the opinions of others, sometimes result in startling truths.

Almost everybody, for instance, has heard of the little lad who, listening to the questions of an irreligious friend of the family as to what would happen supposing that one good Christian should pray for an east and another for a west wind at sea, innocently answered that of course there'd be an awful tempest, but not every one has heard of the equally pertinent and naive solution recently offered by a thoughtful youngster for the ever perplexing problem of "Are prayers answered?"

The child was talking with another, who asked the vexed and puzzling question, explaining at the same time that he didn't believe that prayers were answered, because he never got anything he asked for.

"You don't pray for the right things," answered little Mr. Wiseman. "Of course all prayers are answered, but sometimes the answer is 'Yes' and sometimes it's 'No.'"—Chicago Record-Herald.

Leaving a Man Helpless.

"That statement made me think," said a veteran newspaper man to the Cincinnati Times-Star, "of the celebrated row between President Cleveland's colored man and Secretary Hoke Smith's colored man. The two were exercising their masters' horses out on a country road and got into a dispute as to what is the best thing in the world. Finally they made a bet of a dollar on it.

"'Well, what is de bes' thing in the world?' asked Cleveland's man.

"'Roas' possum and sweet taters,' said Hoke Smith's moke.

"'Whoa!' says Cleveland's man, dragging at the bridle. He jumped to the ground, seized Hoke Smith's man by the leg and dragged him to the dust.

"'Take that,' says he, lamming him on the neck, 'you miserable black rascal! You ain't leave me nuffin' to guess at!'"

Brain of the Bee.

In a German scientific periodical C. Jonescu gives the results of his studies of the brain of the bee. As might be expected from its wonderful instincts, this is found to be very complex. The various divisions of the brain are described in detail, but perhaps the most interesting part is the comparison of the brains of queens, workers and drones. The worker has a larger brain than the queen, and as the difference between queen and worker is the result of diet during the grub stage it appears that the food which develops size of body and fertility is not best for the growth of brain. The "royal jelly" as a mental stimulus is a failure. In the drone the brain is not larger than in the worker, but the optic lobes are large, corresponding to the large eyes.

After September 15, Mrs. Weatherly will discontinue the credit business and sell strictly for cash on delivery. This step will be of mutual benefit, for it is evident, that if no money is put out for stationery, postage, collectors per cent and no lost accounts, she can sell goods much less than any house running on the credit system. Her goods will be marked for cash and sold for cash only. Mrs. Weatherly wishes to take the opportunity to thank the ladies for their liberal patronage and solicit a continuance of the same under the new cash system.

$3.50 Recipe Cures Weak Kidneys, Free

Relieves Urinary and Kidney Troubles, Backache, Straining, Swelling, Etc.

Wouldn't it be nice within a week or so to begin to say goodbye forever to the scalding, dribbling, straining, or too frequent passage of urine; the forehead and the back-of-the-head aches; the stitches and pains in the back; the growing muscle weakness; spots before the eyes; yellow skin; sluggish bowels; swollen eyelids or ankles; leg cramps; unnatural short breath; sleeplessness and the despondency?

I have a recipe for these troubles that you can depend on, and if you want to make a quick recovery, you ought to write and get a copy of it. Many a doctor would charge you $3.50 just for writing this prescription, but I have it and will be glad to send it to you entirely free. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, K1139 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich, and I will send it by return mail in a plain envelope. As you will see when you get it, this recipe contains only pure, harmless remedies, but it has great healing and pain-conquering power.

It will quickly show its power once you use it, so I think you had better see what it is without delay. I will send you a copy free—you can use it and cure yourself at home

MISTRESS MAID MAKES, SAID VETERAN MAGGIE MURPHY.

New York World.

Maggie Murphy, who took the prize at the Household Show in Madison Square Garden for the record of longest continued service in any family in New York or vicinity—thirty-five years—gave a convincing definition of success yesterday.

"I've sometimes thought if I had my life to live over again I'd be a dressmaker and make beautiful gowns," she said. "But I guess, after all, making beautiful rusks that everybody wants more of is just as good."

Maggie Murphy's hair has grown gray in service. She has a bank book with a comfortable balance, but it's a balance made from only single figures whose columns run back for years. Yet from the happy way she spoke she might just as well have been talking of a fortune rolled up from first mortgage loans or plunges in stocks.

The Maxwell family, No. 175 Park street, Montclair, N. J., has been Maggie's employer for more than a third of a century. She has served four generations.

The first of the family to call her a jewel were the parents of the husband of Mrs. John Maxewll, her present mistress. She taught Mrs. Maxwell's sons, now business men, to walk. And it's twelve-year-old Jean, Mrs. Maxwell's granddaughter, for whom she now loves to iron dainty dresses that nobody else can launder to suit the little girl so well.

Maggie came from a land where they baked their bread by putting coals on top of the loaves, and where there weren't the fine hardwood floors in the little homes to kep polished. But just the same her bread is famous, and Mrs. Maxwell says there is never a complaint to make that the house isn't as spick and span as careful work can make it.

Maggie says it's due to the mistress, Mrs. Maxwell says it's because the woman they all depend on has the highest idea of loyalty and a delight in her work that makes it an art.

"I came over to this country when I was only fourteen," said Maggie. "My home was in Cork," and everything was different there. I was met by a cousin who was working for the Rev. John Wels, in Brooklyn. I remember all about it well, for the first time I swept the stairs my cousin made me go right back and clean the corners out over again.

"And it was the same with washing the dishes or setting the table. If things were not just right I was put at them again until they were done right.

"It's the mistresses that are to blame for so much of the changing about of girls. They don't watch to see how things are going. Or they don't know how to tell a girl to do a thing properly because they haven't learned how to do it themselves. Or worse, they tell her in such a way that it hurts. Then she leaves."

So says Mrs. Chas. Lyon, Peoria, Ill.: "I found in your Foley Kidney Pills a prompt and speedy cure for backache and kidney trouble which bothered me for many months. I am now enjoying excellent health which I owe to Foley Kidney Pills."—Holton Drug Co.

"I never saw such a boy," remonstrated the school teacher. "He is always late." "Perhaps he can't help that," said the boy's mother. "You see he was born just a few minutes before midnight."

Acute or Chronic—Which?

No matter if your kidney trouble is acute or chronic Foley's Remedy will reach your case. Mr. Claude Brown, Reynoldsville, Ill., writes us that he suffered many months with kidney complaint which baffled all treatment. At last he tried Foley's Kidney Remedy and a few large bottles effected a complete cure. He says: "It has been of inestimable value to me." Holton Drug Co.

To the Merchants of the South

LESS than ten years ago we started the first modern method shoe factory in the South.

This year we will manufacture more shoes than any of our competitors in such old and well-known markets as New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, although some of these manufacturers have been doing a successful business for thirty or forty years.

We have demonstrated that we can manufacture a shoe which will wear longer than other shoes, and will look well as long as it lasts. We have demonstrated that our workmanship is superior to the workmanship in the factories of the West, and that it equals the workmanship put on shoes of the same price made anywhere on earth.

We are selling more shoes in the South than any of our competitors. We are the only manufacturers outside of New England who have ever been able to sell their product successfully in the large Eastern cities, such as Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and Boston. Our values justify our selling our product anywhere. We prefer selling the output of our factories in the South, as this is our legitimate territory. If you are not buying your shoes from us, write us at once, and we will notify our salesman to call to see you with his spring samples.

More than fifty salesmen leave Lynchburg the first week in September with our line of samples, including a complete line of Oxfords, Sailor Ties, Pumps, and all of the latest novelties in spring footwear. These men cover the South thoroughly and if you wish to handle our line next season, write us at once; otherwise they might place the line with your competitor.

Watch the newspapers. All of the leading daily and evening papers of the South are carrying our advertisements. Millions of Southern people read these advertisements every day. Thousands of people are wearing Craddock shoes that did not wear them yesterday. To-morrow thousands of people will know of Craddock shoes that haven't heard of them to-day.

If you want to sell the best selling line of shoes manufactured in this country; if you wish to buy from the largest Southern manufacturer; if you wish to sell shoes which actually wear longer than other shoes at the same prices, and if you wish to buy the most widely advertised line, the line which is being talked about and being called for, write or wire us to-day.

Was taken down with Bright's Disease several years ago. The patient being an old school physician, visited many of the best specialists in the U. S. Was told that he could not live long and was advised to go to Excelsior Springs, Mo.

Was there advised by the consulting physician to change the treatment to Fulton's Renal Compound.

Case responded slowly but steadily, it requiring between one and two years to remove the albumen and effect a recovery.

The last three reports showed no albumen and during the past year patient advises that he has done more mental work than he had done altogether in the five previous years.

Being a graduate physician, Dr. Simmons realizes the importance of his recovery, and unsolicited wrote a personal letter, giving the above facts and saying that if we didn't tell the people of the South about it that he would do it himself. Physicians who still believe in the incurability of chronic Bright's Disease will probably get an interesting letter if they will write Dr. Simmons.

The new emollient treatment for Bright's and chorinc kidney disease, Fulton's Renal Compound, can be had in Greensboro at Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

We desire to hear from and advise with patients not noting improvement by the third week. Literature mailed free. John J. Fulton Company, 645 Battery street, San Francisco, Cal. We invite correspondence with physicians who have obstinate case.

GENUINE ECZEMA REMEDY

New Remedy That Cures Eczema Quickly.

Howard Gardner has sold dozens of jars of Hokara in the last few weeks, and although he offered to refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied purchaser, not one jar was returned.

While this is surprising in itself, yet the most marvelous thing is the reports of chronic cases of eczema that have been cured by this simple skin food. People who have suffered with scales, scabs and even bleeding itching have found relief in Hokara.

No matter where the eczema, pimples or other breaking out occurs, whether on the face, hands, legs or body, the application of Hokara will give quick relief, and even the worst or most chronic cases will be cured in a short time.

You can buy a liberal-sized jar today at the very low price of 25c and with every package goes a guarantee to refund the money if it is not satisfactory. Larger size 50c.

If the skin trouble is caused by impure blood or if the bowels are inactive, use Hokara Blood Tablets. They cool and cleanse the blood and regulate the bowels in a natural way.

Subscribers are asked not to pay carriers for subscription. Always wait for a collector, who will come around with a book showing your account and give receipts for all money paid.

DIFFICULT TO SHOOT.

Birds That Test the Skill of the Best Marksmen.

We often hear the question as to which is the most difficult bird in the world to shoot. The answer is usually given in favor of the pheasant descending with closed wings from a higher level of flight, though a few give the preference to the second barrel shot at teal scared by the discharge of a first barrel and darting upward and in any direction but that which is expected.

A bird which we have never seen mentioned and which yet might take a high place in the category is the sand grouse. It is not to be rated as an English bird of sport, but is familiar to shooters in the east, where it is shot as it comes fighting to water holes to drink. Its flight is something like that of a pigeon, with very swift curves and undulations, and in its case again, as in that of the Virginian mosquito hawk, it is said that those who have acquired the knack can kill it with a comparative certainty which is the despair of the novice.

After all perhaps our pheasant aeroplaning downward must still be given the highest marks for difficulty, for we hear of no one who presumes to say he has discovered any infallible knack by which this most perplexing and yet apparently simple shot can be brought off with any great assurance.—Country Life.

The Best Hour of Life

is when you do some great deed or discover some wonderful fact. This hour came to J. R. Pitt, of Rocky Mt., N. C. when he was suffering intensely, as he says, "from the worst cold I ever had, I then proved to my great satisfaction, what a wonderful Cold and Cough cure Dr. King's New Discovery is. For, after taking one bottle, I was entirely cured, You can't say anything too good of a medicine like that." Its the surest and best remedy for diseased lungs, Hemorrhages, LaGrippe, Asthma, Hay Fever—any Throat or Lung Trouble. 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

CHICKEN RACES.

The Ridiculous "Hen Derby" Instituted by Sir John Astley.

It is said that the crowning triumph of Sir John Astley, that inventor of absurd contests, whose forte it was to arrange races between animals which nature apparently had made most unsuitable for the purpose, was the institution of the only races that ever took place between chickens.

The story is that the idea came to Sir John during a visit to a friend who kept a large number of hens. He noticed how rapidly the chickens used to scurry to their mother when food was thrown to her. This furnished the ingenious Sir John with a clever notion, and at mess, he then being quartered at Windsor, he accordingly unfolded to his brother officers his plans for a great chicken race.

He bought from a farmer a hen and a brood of chickens. Each officer was to choose a chicken and mark it with a ribbon, so that he could easily recognize it. The chickens were to be placed about fifty yards away from their mother, and whichever of them reached her first in answer to her cackle when food was thrown to her was to be adjudged the winner.

And so this ridiculous "hen Derby" came off in the barracks at Windsor and was witnessed by nearly the whole brigade of guards, who traveled down from London especially to see it.

The race was such a success that it was arranged to repeat it the following week. It might possibly have become a regular institution and a racing stable of chickens might have been added to the attractions at Windsor had not Sir John's chicken won on each occasion with such ease as to cause suspicion in the minds of his competitors. Indeed, it was found, it is said, that in both races Sir John had selected a sturdy young cockerel who was much too speedy for his sisters. When victory was a certainty for one particular competitor the contest, of course, lost interest, and so the chicken races at Windsor came to a sudden end.—New York Herald.

Blobbs—"You don't seem to care for Bjones." Slobbs—"Well, I'd just like to be his dentist for about an hour, that's all."

Staggers Skeptics.

That a clean, nice, fragrant compound like Bucklen's Arnica Salve will instantly relieve a bad burn, cut, scald, wound or piles, staggers skeptics. But great cures prove its a wonderful healer of the worst sores, ulcers, boils, felons, eczema, skin eruptions, as also chapped hands, sprains and corns. Try it. 25c. at Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

It's a good plan to let well enough alone if you know when to do it.
